Carol mentioned that there is going to be a pro-life rally there too. Let me check on a point of contact.

Anyone have suggestions for who we can direct press to in San Antonio to get balance to the coverage of this today? I think we need to see if one of the local pro life groups will email something out to the local press. We can easily provide an email list

Planned Parenthood

Dear Jo, <!--[if !vml]--><!--[endif]-->
This just in! Save the date THIS TUESDAY for a special event in SAN ANTONIO to show your support for TEXAS
WOMEN!
When: Tuesday, March 6
Time: NOON
Where: TBD, we will be sending another email as soon as we get the location confirmed.

As we told you last week, more than one-quarter of Texas women are uninsured, and women in Texas have the third-highest rate of cervical cancer in the U.S., yet Texas Governor Rick Perry is effectively sabotaging the entire Medicaid Women's Health Program, risking the health and lives of thousands of women.

Governor Perry would rather throw health care for an additional 130,000 women overboard than allow Planned Parenthood to provide health care like breast and cervical cancer screenings, birth control, and STD prevention through public health programs.

Join us in sending a message to Governor Perry— you've done enough damage. Don't take away women's access to health care!

See you Tuesday Jo.
